

Hello Hello!

Brighter days are sure to be ahead and I bet we will all be ready for them when they arrive. The last two weeks have been a whirlwind for me as I'm sure they have been for you.

During this time of uncertainty, I wanted you to know my thoughts and prayers are with all of you to remain healthy as we limit our contact with each other. This social distancing is not so easy to do when my world revolves around you, my fabulous customers. I'm already missing those that didn't attend the monthly classes in March. I'm so grateful that 15 of you are taking the card kits from the monthly class and I will have them ready for you after tonight. I couldn't have imagined prepping all of them and then not using them. Thank you again to those who are taking them. As I cut and prepped your kits, I imagined you putting them together at home while we wait out this storm.

I appreciate your continued support during this time. I wouldn't have made it this far without your support and without your support now I won't be able to provide you with an exceptional experience when we get through this. We REALLY want to get back to our regular classes soon and I hope you'll join me when we do. We're all really looking forward to the days ahead in which we can share our love of crafting and catch up with each other.

I've had to make a hard decision which I had hoped I wouldn't have to do and today it really hit home. The rest of March's gatherings - the team meeting, Tropical Oasis Bundle Class, and Sale-A-Bration HooRahRah classes will not be held in person in March. I know that if I have them, attendance will be low and I don't want those who don't come to feel like they are missing out. Please see my notes below for what to expect for upcoming events. I will be updating the class schedule and send a revised copy soon. Please disregard the paper copies you have for now because things are being moved around.

Team Meeting - 3/22, moved to 4/26 at 4:30 pm - let's hope this storm passes by then

Tropical Oasis Bundle Class - 3/22 and 3/25, now will be a Facebook Live class on 3/25 at 6 pm - those that are signed up will receive card kits so they can put them together with me - there is still time to sign up - you can watch the replay if you can't watch it live

Sale-A-Bration HooRahRah Class - 3/29 and 3/30, now will be a Facebook Live class on 3/30 at 6 pm - those that are signed up will receive card kits so they can put them together with me - there is still time to sign up - you can watch the replay if you can't watch it live

Easter Bingo - 4/1, I'm not sure yet on this one and will make that call as we get closer. If we cannot all be together, then I will do a Facebook Live class on how to make the Easter basket and card. We could work something out for those that would like the kits if we don't have bingo in person.

SAB Celebrations - 4/2, 4/4, and 4/8, so many of you worked hard to earn a spot at these parties. I will reschedule all of them if needed, but will make that call at the end of March. Rest assured if it is still storming on these dates, I will reschedule them and we will celebrate Sale-A-Bration in person, together, as soon as we are able to. - I've sent invites out to those on the guest list already and sent emails to those who are close to qualifying - please know that if you place orders to earn your spot that there will be an event to attend sooner or later. 😊

We have just over 10 days left of Sale-A-Bration....there will be new items to earn with a $50 or $100 order starting on March 24th. I will share them with you as soon as I know what they are. The two online classes (Tropical Oasis and SAB HooRahRah) still have an option to get the card kits for FREE with a minimum purchase.

In addition, right now, during SAB, is still the BEST time to sign up to be a discount shopper. The kit is only $99 plus tax and it includes $125 worth of products that you choose, a FREE stamp set, a FREE mini paper cutter, a FREE pack of designer series paper, and a FREE past paper pumpkin. I would love for you to join my amazing team of women, the BEE HAPPY STAMPERS!

I'm sure there will be a silver lining in here. One thing I know is that we have built a foundation built on community and support for one another. We can't stop that and we need to stay connected even if we aren't all together in the same room. I look forward to you joining my Facebook live classes and if you aren't on Facebook, maybe now is the time to give it a whirl. I appreciate your patience as we get through this together. The event updates have been made with the hope and thought that we get through this storm in the next few weeks and then hopefully we'll be able to spend time together again. I will monitor and communicate with you as things come up.

I encourage you to send your beautiful handmade creations to your friends and family. We all need love and support right now!

In the meantime and in my spare time, I'm cleaning, organizing, and designing so that when this storm passes we hit the ground running.

Please be healthy and safe and always let me know how I can help you with your crafting needs!
